Customer Reviews

“Discover and explore your personal path with the help of this excellent book. Use Christen’s step-by-step exercises, along with careful planning and hard work, to launch a successful career.”
• Steven Roy Goodman, educational consultant and coauthor of College Admissions Together
“After long nights of losing sleep and worrying about what career would both satisfy me and benefit my life in the future, I found my answer among the many informative and interactive pages of this book. It has lead me down the right track toward the profession of my dreams and taught me a lot about myself along the way.”
• Alison Mantell, college freshman at Montana State University --This text refers to the Paperback edition.

CAROL CHRISTEN is a career strategist who has worked extensively with teenagers. RICHARD N. BOLLES has been a leader in the career development field for more than forty years and is the author of "What Color Is Your Parachute?"

The book is a great resource. It is very dense, so young people should take their time reading and be very thoughtful and reflective while reading. It as well is an excellent workbook for teenagers and young adults who are "finding themselves" on their path to employment.

Highly recommend this book for teen's to help evaluate their interests, strengths and weaknesses, and navigate their many options for their future.

I use this in one of my classes. Students get some good information. I only wish there were a companion workbook.

Excellent and up-to-date.

Perfect for teens!

My husbands most favorite book from years and years ago. Now it is time for my nephew and my son to read it.

I love using these books to help teens find their paths in life. Great product! Arrived on time and was in perfect condition.

I'm not sure if my teens appreciate this book at the moment, but they will. It's written for those just starting to move from teen to adulthood. Well-written, just like the original!
