Joan Dixon writes from the foothills of the Rockies, where she also hikes, skis, and plays all kinds of sports with her family and friends. Her master's degree in Canadian Studies (with a specialization in sport history) and her time at the National Sport and Recreation Centre in Ottawa have helped shape her understanding of sport in Canadian life, while stories of Canada and amazing Canadians have always inspired her research and writing projects. Her most recent book is Made for Canada: the story of Avro's Arrow. Tracey Read is the

I gave this book as a gift to a friend of many years. He is a keen horseman and has always longed to go to the Calgary Stampede, which is quite an undertaking all the way from New Zealand. He and his wife hoped to go this year but sadly in the end aren't able to manage it, so I thought he would like this book. He was absolutely delighted. The photos and history of the event go right back to the beginnings and tell a great tale. He will definitely try to go again next year.

Great! Book was in better shape than I expected.
