Chloe Perkins is the editor and author of a few dozen books for children. She lives in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with her husband, Rico, and their corgi puppy/sometimes shark, Marius. Growing up in a small town in Ohio, Chloe always dreamed of writing stories that could take kids on their own reading adventures, and she's thrilled to be doing just that! Tom Woolley is an illustrator who works on children's books and colorful maps. He lives in the historic City of Bradford in West Yorkshire in the United Kingdom. When not busy illustrating, Tom likes to ride his bike and loves to travel and explore new places.

I bought two children's books on South Africa this month and both were great! I pre-ordered this one got it on its released date, which is always awesome. "Living in...South Africa" is great for teaching early learners about the people and history of South Africa. It's pretty informative, but not so much that it would go over a child's head. It reads more like a teaching tool than a bedtime story, but that's great for families who travel a lot or for parents who just want to teach their children about another country and culture. The other title, which I'd also recommend, is about a little girl named Keesha and her two moms who go on a 7-day South African Adventure. Both of these books would make excellent additions to any library. Recommended!

AMAZING! My son and I absolutely enjoyed this book

This book is absolutely gorgeous! As a South African living in the US, I really wanted to find a good selection of books relating to South Africa for my 6 year old daughter. This book does not disappoint! A++

These books are simply amazing. My daughter is absolutely addicted. We are planning to order EVERY book in this series! :)
